QATAR STARS LEAGUE 16/17

FOOTBALL DEVELOPMENT REPORT - FULL SEASON ANALYSIS

EDITED BY STATS EMEA RESEARCH

FOREWORD

DELIVERING PERFORMANCE INSIGHT

STATS is once again proud to present the QSL End of Year report for the 2016-2017 season. The data in this document covers the performance of all players and all teams, across all matches, in the Qatar Stars League. As a long term partner of QSL, STATS shares in the collective vision of making QSL the most entertaining and competitive league in the AFC. It is our belief that the key to achieving that goal is the continued professional development of the players and teams in Qatar. And that is built upon the foundation of accurate and insightful performance data. This report shares some of that insight. It is a reflection of the QSL's, and STATS's, commitment to ensuring football players in Qatar have all the information available to them that will help power their professional development, both technically and physically. We hope that you find this report a suitable presentation of the great progress and the hard work being conducted to keep QSL moving forward. We once again congratulate all the QSL clubs for providing us with another great season. It's been a pleasure once again to support QSL's performance initiatives.

DEVELOPING THE GAME IN QATAR

It is my pleasure to present the Football Development Department technical report 4th edition. This comprehensive document covers all technical, tactical and physical aspects of the 14 QSL professional football clubs 2016/2017. Over the years, we are able to understand where our league stands in comparison to other international leagues and set the QSL targets to improve the level. It is with great pleasure once again to invite everyone to analyze and study every detail of this valuable Qatar football document.

Ahmad AL HARAMI
Qatar Stars League
Executive Director of Competitions & Football Development

One more successful QSL season came to an end with some exciting and competitive football matches. I am particularly very happy to confirm that this season was the Best in terms of monitoring data and video capturing. Qatar Stars League jointly with STATS were able to monitor and analyse 182 QSL matches and 3 Qatar matches during the current season, covering all playing attributes of each single player. QSL Football Development Department is very committed to continue working closely with all QSL clubs coaching staff and delivering the most accurate information. I strongly believe that with the match data, training load data, videos and technical support provided, the Qatari football clubs will better prepare their players performances in the upcoming seasons.

ATTACKING TACTICS ANALYSIS

Breaking down the QSL sides' attacks of the 2016/17 season and we can start to analyse where the teams favour entering the final third; through either the wings or down the middle. This analysis differs to looking solely at crosses as it also takes into account other types of balls into the penalty area (passes, through balls and long balls included). Lekhwiya and Umm Salal have shown the biggest tendency to use the flanks. They attacked from the wings 63% of the time this season. El Jaish have the most attacks down the left (32%), whilst Umm Salal have the most attacks down the right (41%). Al Khor have played the most through the centre, with 54% of their attacks originating from the middle. Lekhwiya have scored the most goals from defensive mistakes or own goals (9).

PASSING ANALYSIS

Lekhwiya have somewhat surprisingly emerged as the top passing team in the 2016-17 season. Typically in the last few seasons in the QSL Al Sadd have dominated the passing statistics, and especially lately due to their midfield maestro, Xavi Hernandez. However this season Lekhwiya have emerged as the top passers, averaging 494 passes per game (72 passes more than Al Sadd per game). Lekhwiya also have the highest pass accuracy, with a pass completion of 89%. This has led to Lekhwiya boasting the highest average possession (59%), and the highest average time in possession (10.0 seconds per team possession). Al Sadd have shown the lowest amount of long passes in the QSL (15%) whilst Al Kharaitiyat have played the highest (22%). Umm Salal and Al Khor have shown the biggest tendency to play short (31%). The averages percentages for the QSL in terms of passing direction and length is also indicated.

PASSING EFFICIENCY
PASS SUCCESS RATES OVER 5 SEASONS

The pass completion rate can give a good indication to a team's passing ability, with a strong passing team usually achieving high pass success rates. In the QSL over the past 6 seasons, Al Sadd and Lekhwiya have shown impressive passing data with both teams achieving consistent rates this and last season. Umm Salal have arguably shown the most erratic form, with Al Rayyan showing the biggest improvement from last season (4% increase).

PASSING TACTICS ANALYSIS

Looking at the possession data in closer details and we can see that Lekhwiya have played the most amount of one-touch passes in total (3134). This forms 24% of their total passes. This is not the highest in the league, however, as Al Kharaitiyat play 33% of their total passes without taking a second touch. Bearing in mind Kharaitiyat play the most long balls in the league (22%) this could be a result of flicks on's or first time passes up top (they also have the lowest first-time pass completion—71%). Lekhwiya have actually played over a 1000 more first-time passes than the bottom-placed Al Wakrah. This shows the gulf in passing quality between the top teams and the bottom in the QSL. Lekhwiya also have the league's highest first-time pass success rate (87%).

ATHLETE MONITORING AND INJURY PREVENTION

THE IMPORTANCE OF GPS IN THE QATAR STARS LEAGUE

As another season draws to a close, the final GPS sessions are being imported into each club's training databases. Over the course of the last three seasons, GPS has become an essential element in the daily training routine of our players. Fundamental to both the medical and fitness teams; GPS data along with video analysis and a battery of fitness tests allows clubs to build a profile of every athlete and better understand their responses to training and match-day situations. This allows for personalised training schedules to be put in place in order to maximise performance. In addition, the prevention of injury is key to any club in order to ensure as many players are available over the course of the season. Through the correct analysis of physical data, sessions can be tapered to prevent chronic injuries, fatigue and burnout. Particularly for the clubs competing in the AFC Champions League; training analysis is vital to cope with a demanding schedule.

The above graph displays the unique variables used by QSL clubs this season. The bar graph indicates the Total work performed by each player which can be broken down into two variables. Tight work is a sum of all the impulses from footstrikes when the players are moving at a speed <4 m/s and relates to open field running and box to box style activities. Stride work is a sum of all the impulses from footstrikes >4 m/s and relates to short, sharp changes of direction, accelerations and decelerations. Combined, Stride work and Tight work give the Total work, which indicates the intensity of that training session. This can be categorised; Very light, Light, Light-medium, Medium, Medium-heavy, Heavy, Very heavy. Total work is used alongside HI distance to assess how difficult the training was. If a player is continually performing a high amount of Total work as well as HI distance, recovery sessions and even rest days are essential in order to prevent overtraining and fatigue from setting in. On the other hand, coaches can recognise when a player isn't performing at the required intensity, and therefore introduce top-up sessions.

DEVELOPMENTS IN ATHLETE MONITORING AND CHALLENGES FACING QSL CLUBS

Next season will see the introduction of a new system whereby players can receive feedback on their physical performance directly to their smart device. This advancement in technology allows more interaction from the players, enabling them to better understand their own physical output and feedback to the coaching staff. Unlike most other countries where lower temperatures are conducive to morning training, QSL clubs train in the evening when it is cooler. This gives staff less contact time with players hence why a new interactive system will improve player education. Research this season found a dramatic difference in physical performance between the summer and winter months where temperatures reached a peak of 47 degrees in July to a low of 17 degrees in January. This unique climate change offers a challenge to the fitness and medical staff as well as the players, who already have to contend with the everyday demands of the professional game. However, the use of athlete monitoring is an essential tool and will continue to aid staff in ensuring the player's well-being and fitness is correctly looked after.

KEY PLAYERS

Nam
TAE-HEE

Another Lekhwiya representative in the QSL team of the season, the Korean produced another high quality season, ranking 6th in the league for assists and finishing with the 3rd highest performance rating in the league. A key part of Belmadi's attacking machine this season, Nam also produced 237 crosses in total - the highest in the league by far.

Youssef
EL ARABI

The league's top scorer for 2016/17, the Moroccan hitman averaged a remarkable 1.3 goals per game this season and also chipped in with 5 assists. El Arabi averaged 4.7 shots per game, close to the average rate for a top striker in Europe, with 55% of these shots on target on average.

Khaled
MUFTAH

A quietly consistent season for the left back, Muftah was the 2nd highest rated Qatari in the league based on the performance ratings, and the highest rated left back in the league, making the team of the season for 2016/17. Featuring in almost every game this season as part of a strong defensive unit, Muftah was not afraid to get forward, contributing 5 assists for the team.

KEY PLAYERS

Xavi
HERNANDEZ
The player of the season according to the STATS performance ratings. The ex-Barcelona maestro had an even better second season in the QSL, matching his 16 assists from last season but scoring 10 goals this season as well (7 more than 15/16). Xavi was 2nd in the QSL for average passes per game but will be disappointed not to add another league title to his personal tally.

Baghdad
BOUNDJAH
The Algerian centre forward had his first full season in the QSL with Al Sadd and narrowly lost out to Lekhwiya's El Arabi for top goalscorer. With 23 goals and 7 assists in 20 games, Boundjah was a constant threat this season. He was also the top shooter in the league (5.1 shots per game) and received the most balls in the penalty area (4.4 per game).

Jugurtha
HAMROUN
The Algerian finishes his loan deal with Al Sadd having successfully made a strong impact this season in the QSL. The pace of Hamroun and Haydos wide, with Xavi supplying throughballs and Baghdad finishing chances meant Al Sadd scored only 2 goals less than Lekhwiya this season. Hamroun chipped in with 6 goals and 9 assists and only 3 players outsprinted the wide-man at Al Sadd this season.

KEY PLAYERS

Rodrigo
TABATA

Another sublime season by the new Qatari international. Tabata contributed to 31 of Al Rayyan's 53 goals this season. Tabata's impeccable technique led to Rayyan scoring the most goals from free kicks (10) either through a cross or direct shot. The second highest performer in the QSL according to the STATS performance ratings.

Sergio
GARCIA

The ex-Spanish international's contribution of 11 goals and 10 assists was crucial to Al Rayyan cementing their place in the top 4 this season. Unfortunate not to make the team of the season, Garcia was the 2nd highest rated left winger, just behind Al Sadd's Hamroun.

Gonzalo
VIERA DAVYT
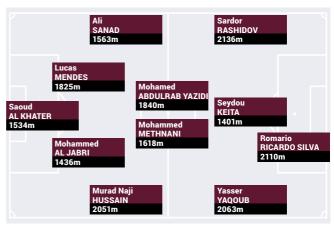

The Uruguayan played in every game except one this season, with the centre back being a vital part of the league's second best defence. Gonzalo won possession on average 21 times per game and ranked 9th in the league for headers per game (8.1).

KEY PLAYERS

Romario
RICARDO SILVA

The Brazilian was the highest rated player at El Jaish this season statistically. 14 goals and 4 assists meant a successful season on a personal level for the attacker, despite El Jaish's erratic form. Romarinho scored 31% of El Jaish's total goals this season, the 5th highest contribution in the QSL.

Sardor RASHIDOV

The Uzbek winger was another positive outcome from a disappointing season for the Army Club. Rashidov chipped in with 14 goals and 6 assists this season, matching Romarinho's goal tally despite playing on the wing mostly. Rashidov was the 5th highest shooter in the league and the top runner in his team.

Yasser YAQOUB

The versatile Qatari international was a useful and valuable part of Sabri Lamouchi's 2016/17 campaign. Yasser has featured at left back, left and right midfield, centre midfield and in attack this season. He had the highest distance covered at high intensity in the team and only 3 players outpassed him for Jaish.

KEY PLAYERS

Yousof
ALI
The young Qatari goalkeeper featured in every game this season for the Cheetahs despite his age. The 20 year old also made the shortlist for the top 20 U23 players this season, where he was the highest goalkeeper on this list. He averaged 2.2 saves per game with a 67.6% save success percentage, as the future looks bright for Ali.

Vladimir
WEISS
The Slovakian international was a constant attacking source for Pedro Caixinha's side in 2016/17. He was the second highest rated player for Gharafa this season and the top scorer for the Cheetahs, with 10 goals and 4 assists to his name.

Kook
HAN YOUNG
The engine room of Al Gharafa's midfield, Han was another ever-present this season and finished the season as the top runner in the QSL, averaging 12.1km covered per game. He also had the 2nd highest HI and sprint distance in the team for 16/17.

Yannick
SAGBO
47% of all of Umm Salal's goals were scored by the big Ivorian striker this season. This excludes assists to which he also picked up 2. Sagbo had the 3rd highest shooting accuracy in the league (58%) and whilst he didn't receive the ball as much as the strikers for the top 4 teams, Sagbo was just as (if not more) clinical in front of goal.

Ismail Ebrahim
DAHQANI
The third highest crossing defender in the league (100 crosses), Ismail had a strong season for Umm Salal as part of the league's 5th best defence. He contributed the most assists, most passes, most distance covered and most high intensity distance covered for his side this season.

Helal
MOHAMED IBRAHIM
The young Qatari had a steady season for Umm Salal under 2 different coaches. The 2nd highest goalscorer in the team behind Sagbo, Helal helped Umm Salal finish the season on a 6 game unbeaten streak. The wide-man also ended the season with the 2nd highest high intensity distance and sprint distance covered in the team.

TIBERKANINE
Despite only joining in January, Tiberkanine made an instrumental impact in helping the Thunders avoid relegation this season. The Moroccan striker was the club's top scorer, despite only playing in 9 games. Kharaitiyat will be desperate to sign the player on a permanent deal in the summer.

Anouar
DIBA
The Dutch-Moroccan playmaker who could now be considered a seasoned QSL professional had a strong season for Al Kharaitiyat. His 4 goals and 7 assists (the most in the team) helped Kharaitiyat to a surprising 7th placed finish. Diba also sneaked into the top 25 players overall this season with a performance rating of 77.0.

Sanjar
TURSUNOV
Another January signing that coincided with Al Kharaitiyat's brilliant end of season form, the team won 7 of the 13 games that Tursunov played in. The Uzbek scored twice and had 3 assists 3 but his link up with Tiberkanine was the key part. Only 1 player covered more sprint distance despite his limited game time.

KEY PLAYERS

Dragos GRIGORE

The big Romanian centre back was involved in every game except one this season. Grigore ended up being the top passer and top runner in the team for 2016/17. The number of early goals conceded by Sailiya this season, however, hampered Grigore's personal record slightly and meant his performance rating of 62.9 was only the 4th highest in the team.

Valentin Marius LAZAR

Lazar was the 17th best player in the league this season, according to the STATS performance ratings. The Romanian winger provided 6 assists in only 10 matches, due to his late arrival in January. His pace on the break helped Sailiya score the most goals in the league from counter attacks.

Mohammed MUDATHER

The Sudanese attacker had a solid season for the Peregrines, notching up 1796 minutes under his belt and providing 7 goals and 3 assists for the team. He was the 2nd top shooter in the team with 40 shots and only 2 players outsprinted Mudather over the course of the season for Al Sailiya.

KEY PLAYERS

Luis
JIMENEZ

The Chilean attacking maestro had a productive season in a disappointing campaign for Al Arabi. Four different coaches had chances with the Red Devils but, despite this, the ex-Inter Milan player still contributed 10 goals and 4 assists this season amongst all the chopping and changing at the top. Jimenez also covered the most distance out of any player at Al Arabi this season.

Omar Ahmed
AL-EMADI

The 3rd highest passes received out of the squad, the young Qatari midfielder was a promising feature of Al Arabi's 2016/17 season. Al-Emadi featured in the top 20 players under 23 according to the STATS performance ratings and will be looking forward to building upon his good work in 2017/18.

Boualem
KHOUKHI

The highest rated player at Al Arabi this season and a spot on the STATS team of the season at centre back, the versatile Qatari international was another key member of the squad this season. With 9 goals and 2 assists, Khoukhi averaged 7.8 headers per game and had a pass success rate of 87%.

KEY PLAYERS

Meshal
ABDULLA

The Qatari veteran is a seasoned QSL player by now and his experience was vital in Al Ahli SC's run in with the relegation battle. His 10 goals and 3 assists out of Al Ahli's total 33 goals is an impressive feat, considering he had numerous strike partners to combine with this season. Meshal also had the joint highest work rate in the team.

Sayed
MOHAMED ADNAN

Despite only playing half the season for Al Ahli SC, the Iranian centre back was excellent statistically this season, topping the league averages for interceptions (24.4), headers (12.9), crosses defended (5.8), and possession won (29.0). He was also the 4th highest rated centre back in the league.
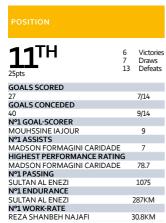

Ali
FRYDOON

Only signed in January, the ex-Al Shamal centre forward was on fire at the end of the season, scoring once every 2 games. With the third highest sprint distance out of the squad despite such limited game-time, the Kuwaiti striker will be hoping for a permanent deal in the summer.

KEY PLAYERS

Welinton SOUZA SILVA

The Brazilian centre back had a solid second season in the QSL. Welinton averaged 21.8 possession wins per game, which put him 8th in the QSL this season. He was also in the top 10 for interceptions (17.1 per game). Only 3 players outpassed the big defender for Al Khor.

Sultan
AL ENEZI

The top passer and top runner in the team this season was the energetic Sultan Al Enezi. The Kuwaiti international played in every game except one for the league's smallest squad. His 4 goals and 2 assists went a long way to helping Al Khor narrowly avoid relegation from the QSL.

Madson
FORMAGINI CARIDADE

The diminutive Brazilian forward is a renowned player in the QSL these days. Remarkably, in his 6th season in Qatar, Madson contributed to 14 of Al Khor's 27 goals this season. The highest rated player in the team and the 18th highest rated player overall this season.

KEY PLAYERS

Fahad
KHALFAN A AL-BULUSHI

The top scorer for the Oryxes this season, Fahad Khalfan scored almost 30% of Shahaniya's total goals this season. On the other hand, 7 goals in 26 games is a disappointing return and this is reflected in his below average performance rating (56.5). Still, easily the top shooter in the team, Khalfan had 43 more shots than the 2nd placed player.

Alvaro
MEJIA PEREZ

The ex-Real Madrid centre back featured in 23 of 26 games this season for Al Shahaniya. The Oryxes were the second worst team in the league in terms of goals conceded but Perez had a positive season individually. Ranked 9th in the league for interceptions (17.6 per game), Alvaro also played the second highest number of passes in the team.

Mohamed
SAYYAR

The Bahraini defensive midfielder covered the most distance out of all Shahaniya players this season and was just outside the top 10 in the league (10.7km per game). Mohamed was the top passer at Al Shahaniya, with 870 passes throughout the season and also played the most minutes out of the whole squad.

KEY PLAYERS

Ahmed
YASIN

The Iraqi international had a strong end of the season since joining on loan in January. Ranking in the top 30 of the performance rankings in the league overall (76.3), Yasin chipped in with 4 goals and 4 assists in 13 games for the Stallions. Only 2 players at Muaither SC outsprinted Ahmed Yasin.

Yessoh
NGUESSAN

The on-loan Ivorian attacker scored one goal every 2 games for the relegated Stallions, despite only joining in January from Al Ahli SC. Only 2 players had more shots for Muaither SC than Nguessan this season; however, a shooting accuracy of 32% could have room for improvement.

Saeed
ALHAJ ESSA

The big Qatari defender was part of a defence that conceded fewer goals than their league position dictated. Saeed Essa ranked 12th in the league for tackles made and featured in every game except one this season. He also ranked 2nd in the team after Aguiar for interceptions per game.

KEY PLAYERS

Mohssine MOUTAOULI

15 out of Wakrah's 29 goals were contributed directly by Moutaouli, an impressive return for a bottom of the table team. Wakrah will be desperate to keep hold of the talented attacking midfielder as they attempt to pull themselves out of the Gas League next season. Moutaouli's work rate is excellent, averaging 44 sprints per game with a recovery time of 45 seconds on average. He was also the top passer in the team this season.

Sultan AL-BRAKE

The second highest rated left back in the league this season and only 21 years of age, Al Brake had a fine season on an individual level. His performance rating of 82.1 puts him 12th in the league overall. The young Qatari defender will be hopeful that his league performances will have been noticed by Jorge Fossati at national team level.

Ahmed Fadel HASABA

This physical monster set the seasonal record for distance covered (13.6km), highest number of sprints in a game (128), and highest HI distance covered in a game (2.4km). He was first in the league for average high speed running and another promising young player in the squad, Fadel will be disappointed that the Waves could not manage to secure QSL status for another year.
